Introducing you to PAHS . . .

Pen Argyl, home of the Green Knights—and much more. Diverse activities and programs offer something for everybody. If college prep isn't the program for you, choose business, or Vo-Tech. Learn from dedicated teachers—and who exemplifies dedication more than Miss May? We wish her well on her retirement after nineteen years of service. We're sure her fine work won't stop when she leaves Pen Argyl. Even the most dedicated student needs variety in his school day—and finds it, in the clubs and activities which range from chess to student government to arts and crafts. Both boys and girls have the opportunity to participate in ten varsity sports plus intramurals. Different strokes for different folks—at Pen Argyl.

... We've Got Everything ...

"All kinds of people should get together"—and they do at Pen Argyl. Even the cold weather doesn't keep the students from getting together to discuss the "world problems" before school begins. Maybe those Pen "Argyle" socks keep them warm! Later, they have enough other problems to solve, from math to government to mixing mortar properly. They have to make sure those cinder blocks stick together! Where would so many people be without Vo-Tech? Girls as well as boys are out in full force to give our sports program a boost. Jacqui Blackman from New Zealand adds an international touch to our hockey team. The fans as well as the players are at full strength as they show their support at the Thanksgiving game. "Variety is the spice of life"—especially at Pen Argyl.

... To Make us the Best

Involvement is the rule at Pen Argyl—from classes to sports and activities to ecology. The spirit is always high—from a bonfire to cheering the football team to victory; from “pedal power” to conserving energy. The melodious voices heard in the chorus room and the masterpieces displayed by the art classes are the results of hard work by the Fine Arts department—one of the many “fine” departments at Pen Argyl. The ecology taught in the classroom carried over to the students who adjusted well to the energy crisis by wearing extra clothing, using the tunnel, and even riding bicycles to school to conserve energy. Hail, Pen Argyl!

The Hands That Govern

The consensus of the administration at PAHS expresses great satisfaction with the school as a whole. Our principal, Mr. Lee, as PA alumnus, takes a personal interest in the school and student body. He feels that the school is very good in comparison with schools elsewhere. He regrets, however, that the silent majority doesn't speak-up more in favor of their alma mater. Our assistant principal, Mr. Godshall, says that he "wouldn't trade Pen Argyl for any other school in the country." Both men acknowledge realistically that our school, as others, has its problems—"The following people are directed to report to the senior high school office."

The guidance counselors keep working to help the students head in the right direction. This year, the elementary students have a counselor to call their own.

The school board keeps making snap decisions to keep the schools rolling. President Brumbaugh knows that Pen Argyl has some problems, but on the whole, "it's a good place." "Sugar and Spice and Everything Nice—That's what Pen Argyl's made of."

TOP LEFT—SEATED—The Board: Dr. E. Brumbaugh, Mr. Stanley Snyder, Mr. Robert Stratton, Mr. Anthony DeBerardinis, Mrs. Jane Wedge, Mrs. Myrtle Rabenold, Mr. Weston Miller. She has just completed her first year here at Pen Argyl. For relaxation Miss Soltysik turns to traveling and sewing. Miss Diane Deibert, a Kutztown graduate, is working on her M.S. One of our English teachers, Miss Deibert has just finished her fourth year of teaching here. She likes to play the piano and read in her spare time.

Hockettes Hammer Saucon

Although the girls' field hockey team fell prey to the more established teams in the league, their spirit and determination led them to victory in one of the biggest upsets of the season when they defeated previously unbeaten Saucon Valley by a 3-1 score. The Panthers scored first giving the Knightettes a scare but consecutive goals by Jamie Gold, Lori Sweet, and Holly Miller wrapped up the win. Although victories were hard to come by most of the games were close, two of them ending in scoreless ties. In future years if the offense catches up to the defense our hockey team will be right in the thick of the race for the championship. Six graduating seniors will have to be replaced: Mary Alice Kohan, Lori Sweet, Jacqui Blackman, Chris Starner, Sandy Guerro, and Linda Groner.

Little Knights Topple Slaters 16-0 in Night Game

One new wrinkle in JV football occurred in 1973. The Little Knights, for the first time ever, met Bangor in the middle of the season on a Friday night before an excellent crowd of 2000. The game was usually played the Saturday before Thanksgiving in bad weather, so both schools felt it would be better to play it in October, on a week-end both varsity teams had an off-day. The result was a big night for the JV teams as the crowd was big, the enthusiasm high, bands played, and the best of all a tight game was broken open on a 75 yard TD run by Rick Behler giving Pen Argyl a 16-0 win.

The rest of the season wasn't quite so rosey as that night in October, however, as a very young inexperienced team had to come back from an 0-3-1 start to finish the year at 3-5-2. Before the season even started coach Jim Tiernan, in his first year at the helm, had to find a replacement for his quarterback Russell Miller who underwent a knee operation and was lost for the year. Freshman Scott Manini and then Tim Humphreys took over the quarterbacking chores and, as the year progressed, added experience became evident as the freshmen laden squad defeated Stroudsburg 14-8, Wilson 14-0 and tied Nazareth 0-0.

Mike Hann (70), Rick Bender, and Mike Roosa are also in pursuit. East Burg won 20-0. TOP RIGHT: Rick Behler (45), one of the leading rushers and scorers, takes a handoff from Scott Manini (11) and runs into a Lehigh wall. Mike Roosa is the blocker. The Knights tied the game on a 60 yd. punt return by Dean Lobb. MIDDLE LEFT: Dean Lobb (43), another of the team's leading rushers, gains 3 yds. on this play against Bangor. Mike Roosa (68) and Rick Bender (67) attempt to help but no more was needed this night as Pen Argyl won 16-0. MIDDLE RIGHT: Lou Goth and Mark Jones (36) put the finishing touches on a Nazareth ball carrier in one of the season's tie games. Dan Derr (21), who led the team in tackles, moves in along with Jim Trach (82) and Rick Bender (67). BOTTOM LEFT: QB Tim Humphreys (16) gets the offense off against Nazareth. The play was good for 5 yds. but proved fruitless as Pen Argyl played their only bad game of the season losing 27-0 to the Panthers. MIDDLE LEFT: Rhys Williams (32) eludes a Catty defender to pick up a 3 yd. gain. Pen Argyl had a poor offensive game in an 18-0 loss to the Roughies. MIDDLE RIGHT: Rhys Williams (32) rips through a gaping hole in the Bangor line for a TD. Blockers are Jim Hunter (65), Jim Seitz (11), Morris Pagni (85), and Glenn Bray (31). The Knights routed the Slaters 32-0. FAR RIGHT: Jim Seitz (11) follows blocks by Bob Edwards (51), Dave Lemley (61), and Craig Benn enroute to a 5 yd. gain against Bangor. BOTTOM LEFT: Glenn Bray (31) plunges over for 2 pts. in Pen Argyl's 47-0 win over Pocono Mt. Blocks are supplied by Jim Hunter (65), Dave Lemley (61), and Craig Benn (84). BOTTOM MIDDLE LEFT: Morris Pagni (85) leaps high for a pass from Roger Woolley, but an East Burg defender picks it off for a nifty interception. BOTTOM MIDDLE RIGHT: Tom Detweiler (63) and Jim Hunter (65) fire out from the offensive line in the SV game. Hunter was selected to the LNL all-star team. BOTTOM RIGHT: Jim Hunter (65), Wayne Lugg (21) and Jim Trach (75) leap high to bat down a Saucon Valley pass attempt.

Knights Cop 5th Straight from Slaters 32-0

Never before in the long history of the Bangor-Pen Argyl football series has one team won five games in a row. That is until this past Thanksgiving Day when the Knights clobbered the Slaters 32-0. Jim Seitz had a field day as the offensive line and blocking backs opened huge holes in the Bangor defense, enabling Jim to pick up 180 yds. rushing and one touchdown, earning him the outstanding player award for the day. 16 seniors played their final game for Pen Argyl: Center—Craig Dally; linemen—Mike Manoway (injured the last 3 games), Kyle Parsons (lost for the season in the Stroudsburg game); ends—Craig Benn, Allen Tobias, and Alan Bellis; tackles—Bob Edwards (team leader in tackles with 95), Jim Hunter (3rd in tackles with 78), and Brian Tucker; guards—Tom Detweiler and Dave Lemley; quarterback Roger Woolley; tailbacks—Rhys Williams (leading ground gainer with 676 yds. and 7 TD) and Gary Snyder (3rd in rushing with 254 yds.); fullback Glenn Bray (gained 119 yds. and 2 TD without losing a yd.); wingback—Jim Seitz (2nd in rushing with 268 yds.). Their outstanding attitudes and personalities will be sorely missed.

The 4-6 record the varsity compiled was certainly misleading. For a team with only one 200 pounder (Hunter) the Knights played every team right down to the wire except Saucon Valley (a bad day that day). Even the scores are misleading as many of the points were scored when the Knights were gambling and playing catch up football. Perhaps the best effort of the year took place when the Big Green traveled to Parkland to meet what proved to be an unbeaten Trojan team. The huge Trojans scored a quick touchdown when safetyman Jeff Sparrow slipped and Parkland quarterback Bill Williams flipped a 50 yard TD pass to Dick Piger. But the Knights, using a single wing the only time of the year, controlled the ball most of the first half and put together a 27 yard field goal by Allen Tobias (the first ever by a Pen Argyl varsity player) and a safety by Glenn Bray (tackled Vince Quigg in the end zone) to trail by only 7-5 at the half. Another touchdown and a safety in the 2nd half provided the 16-5 score. Parkland coach Joe Gerenser went into the Pen Argyl locker room and stated that the Knights were the best team they faced all year.

TOP LEFT: Jeff Sparrow (40), who led team in pass interceptions with 4, saved the day here when he batted down this Lehigh pass to preserve the Knights 6-0 win. TOP MIDDLE LEFT: Jeff Sparrow (40) returns a Nazareth kickoff to the Pen Argyl 40 yd. line. Jim Seitz (11) is the blocker. TOP MIDDLE RIGHT: Linebacker Wayne Lugg (21), credited with 62 tackles on the season, refused to let Lehigh runner loose and drags him down for a loss. TOP RIGHT: One of the top games of every year is the Nazareth game. Nazareth won this one 14-0 but not without a struggle. MIDDLE LEFT: Allen Tobias (83) boots a PAT against Bangor. The holder is Roger Woolley (10) and blocking are Gary Snyder (42) and Craig Benn (84). MIDDLE RIGHT: Kyle Parsons, lost at mid-season with a knee operation, cheers the team on at Nazareth. BOTTOM LEFT: Bob Edwards (51) and Allen Tobias (83) forced Catty quarterback to throw a bad pass on this play. BOTTOM RIGHT: Gary Snyder (42) lunges over the goal for a 2 point conversion against Bangor. Other Knights on the scene are Craig Dally (52), Craig Benn (84), Bob Edwards (51), and Jim Hunter (65).

Knights Almost Gain Playoff Spot

The varsity basketball season of '73-'74 was a topsy turvy one to say the least. One night the Big Green could beat almost anyone and the next night would prove just the opposite. A 9-13 record does not seem too impressive but even at that the Knights came within six points of being the first Pen Argyl five to qualify for the District playoffs. The game they had to win was the second Saucon Valley game played at Pen Argyl. Earlier in the season the Knights had beaten the Panthers 62-58 at Hellertown, so hopes were high for a win at home. However, this was not to be as the Panthers broke away from a 4th quarter 44-44 tie to out-score the Knights 18-12 in the final period to win it 62-56, in spite of 18 and 17 point performances by Mike Wedge and Jeff Sparrow. Pen Argyl had perhaps their best night of the season at home against Palisades. The Pirates eventually finished the season at 15-7 and gained a playoff spot. But that night it was no contest as Mike Fiorot and Mike Wedge poured in 24 and 22 points respectively with Jeff Sparrow and Glenn Bray chipping in with 15 each. Pen Argyl won going away 95-65.

The nine wins all came when the Knights put together four good quarters of basketball. Too often, however, one bad period meant the difference between winning and losing. In most cases the bad period was the first one as we seemed to be a slow starting team, (we were outscored 341-288 in 1st period play) spending several games playing catch up basketball. The outstanding example was the first Nazareth game when a horrendous 1st half produced a 34-9 score for the Blue Eagles. But the Knights, who never once quit all year, came storming back with 51 points in the second half to make quite a game of it. Though losing 72-60, Pen Argyl did pull within 5 points late in the 4th quarter. A loss of 8 seniors will mean a rebuilding job next year for Coach Folk. Graduating are Mike Wedge, Mike Fiorot, Glenn Bray, Rhys Williams, Jim Seitz, Kim Hinton, Dave Reagan, and Craig Dally.

The varsity basketball season of '73-'74 was a topsy turvy one to say the least. One night the Big Green could beat almost anyone and the next night would prove just the opposite. A 9-13 record does not seem too impressive but even at that the Knights came within six points of being the first Pen Argyl five to qualify for the District playoffs. The game they had to win was the second Saucon Valley game played at Pen Argyl. Earlier in the season the Knights had beaten the Panthers 62-58 at Hellertown, so hopes were high for a win at home. However, this was not to be as the Panthers broke away from a 4th quarter 44-44 tie to out-score the Knights 18-12 in the final period to win it 62-56, in spite of 18 and 17 point performances by Mike Wedge and Jeff Sparrow. Pen Argyl had perhaps their best night of the season at home against Palisades. The Pirates eventually finished the season at 15-7 and gained a playoff spot. But that night it was no contest as Mike Fiorot and Mike Wedge poured in 24 and 22 points respectively with Jeff Sparrow and Glenn Bray chipping in with 15 each. Pen Argyl won going away 95-65.

The nine wins all came when the Knights put together four good quarters of basketball. Too often, however, one bad period meant the difference between winning and losing. In most cases the bad period was the first one as we seemed to be a slow starting team, (we were outscored 341-288 in 1st period play) spending several games playing catch up basketball. The outstanding example was the first Nazareth game when a horrendous 1st half produced a 34-9 score for the Blue Eagles. But the Knights, who never once quit all year, came storming back with 51 points in the second half to make quite a game of it. Though losing 72-60, Pen Argyl did pull within 5 points late in the 4th quarter. A loss of 8 seniors will mean a rebuilding job next year for Coach Folk. Graduating are Mike Wedge, Mike Fiorot, Glenn Bray, Rhys Williams, Jim Seitz, Kim Hinton, Dave Reagan, and Craig Dally.

Grapplers—A 7-6-1 Season

With the caliber of competition that Pen Argyl teams face year after year, a winning season is something to be proud of. Being a member of a team belonging to the smallest school in the league means you have to push yourself 100% all the time. This is what our boys did to be competitive with schools much larger than ourselves.

With only four seniors (Bob Edwards, Craig Benn, Tom Detweiler, and Dave Dietrich) (Kyle Parsons and John Male were unable to wrestle) on the team a young squad of sophomores and juniors carried the load that produced victories over such wrestling powers as Catasauqua, Stroudsburg, and Palisades. Only highly ranked Nazareth and Saucon Valley proved to be out of the Knights' class.

Although none of the boys made it past the District 11 tournament this year, hopes are high for the next two years. Coach Tiernan cites Stan Buskirk, Dwayne Pfeiffer, Mike Cesare, Dave Uliana, Richard Ede, and Carl Berhel as his outstanding prospects for a big season in 1974-75. Top records this year were posted by Bob Edwards (10-6), Mike Cesare (12-6-2), Richard Ede (8-2), and Dave Uliana (7-5).

TOP LEFT: Craig Benn muscled his way to a 2-1 win over Northwestern's Don Kishbaugh in this 155 lb match. Craig had trouble early in the year at 155 but began to move when he went up to 170 and finished the season at 5-7 with 2 pins. TOP RIGHT: You've heard of the agony of defeat. Here it shows in the face of Mike Cesare. Mike made a mistake against Parkland's Dave Billig and got caught & pinned. He knows he should have beaten Billig. TOP MIDDLE: Dave Uliana, wrestling at 112, is about to take Northwestern's Craig Smith down enroute to a 7-4 decision. Dave won 7 and lost 3 for the season. The Tigers won the meet 38-31. MIDDLE LEFT: Carl Berhel is in complete control of Parkland's Dave Szulborski. Carl gained an 11-1 superior decision and finished the year with a 6-6 slate including 3 falls. MIDDLE RIGHT: At 100 lb., Pat Seitz gains a near fall against Jerry Lesser of Parkland. Seitz won the match 10-2. His season's record was 5-8-1. BOTTOM LEFT: Dwayne Pfeiffer finished the season very strongly at 112 posting a 7-7 record with 4 pins. However, in this match with Catty's Keith Betz he was pinned shortly after this move to reverse Betz. BOTTOM MIDDLE: Stan Buskirk, in this 105 lb match with Northwestern's Kim Ham, appears in complete control. However, even though he finished the season with a 6-6-2 record he lost this match 7-1. BOTTOM RIGHT: Tom Detweiler is about to take Bangor's Ed Gist down enroute to a fall. Bangor, stronger than usual, had hopes of winning this year, but the Knights were still too strong winning 45-15.

Girls Make Playoffs

St. Francis Academy! Who are they? According to the new PIAA ruling, the Knightettes would find out on Feb. 23, 1974. As a result of this new ruling, the girls in green traveled to Parkland to participate in their first playoff game. St. Francis, one of the favorites for the championship, had a lot of trouble with the Knightettes before finally pulling away and sending P.A.'s girls home with a 52-38 loss.

This past season the girls' team lacked height, but determination to win and the possession of good fundamental skills brought about an impressive 8-5 record. Leading the Knightettes in scoring was senior Diane Murphy. However, Murph also had help from other members of the team. Junior Laurie Harris was second high scorer and Dina Uliana proved her talents by being the team's leading rebounder. The girls, who also attribute their wins to great coaching, feel they have had a most successful season.

JV's Finish Strong

The Pen Argyl Junior Varsity, which lost five games by the combined total of 21 points, won two of their last three games and finished the season at 6-16. Coach Tom Schoeninger's boys showed the desire and hustle needed, but seemed to lose the close ball games. Earlier defeats at the hands of Wilson, Pius X, and Saucon Valley were later avenged, but perhaps the Little Knights' best effort of the year came against Parkland in a 67-64 loss. Joe Palmisano had a career high 28 points and Ernie Cali added 18, but it still wasn't quite enough to overcome the taller Trojans.

The Little Knights would start quickly and usually hold a first quarter lead, but the hazardous second period, in which they were outscored 289-233 for the year, proved to be their downfall. With only 9 players on the squad, lack of depth certainly contributed to several losses. Joe Palmisano led the team with a 15.0 points per game average while George Hinton was second with 9.2.

Rough Sledding for Jr Hi

The junior high basketball team, coached for the second year by Mr. John Harner, got off winning the first game of the season with a home court 71-44 win over Jim Thorpe. Rick Behler scored 29 points and Tom Wilson 20 as the Knights pulled away from the Olympians in the third quarter with a 28 point scoring burst. From there it was all down hill as the luckless Knights dropped their next 12 games before again tasting victory with a 38-30 win over Saucon Valley, a team that had beaten them 70-23 earlier in the season. Rick Behler was the high point man in the game with 18 points while Scott Manini chipped in with 10.

Several of the scores are quite misleading, however, as the squad was plagued with injuries and illness throughout the year. There is no doubt that a healthy squad of Rick Behler, Scott Manini, Tim Humphreys, Paul Romano, Tom Wilson, and George Petrolock would have produced a winning season.

Go-Go Mighty Mites

When you have only 10 boys come out for a team instead of the necessary 20 or 30 and when the sport is basketball and 8 of the 10 are barely 5 feet tall it makes for a rough season. This was the situation that coach Bob Gold was faced with this past year. (One taller boy, Jeff Achenbach served briefly.) However, in spite of the lack of height and numbers those that saw the team play had to be impressed with the ball handling skills of this little team. The season produced only one win in six games but the victory came over Bangor by a 45-26 score. John Williams, the team's top rebounder, led the assault with 22 points, his high for the season. Though the other five games were losses, only one of the games turned into a runaway—the first Stroudsburg game. The remainder of the games were close throughout, only to be lost in the last few minutes. Mr. Gold sited 7th graders Brian Houser, Brad Strauss, and Donny Dentith as the nucleus for next year's team.

JV'S Break Even

One of the main objectives of JV sports is to give the necessary experience to future varsity performers. This past season certainly provided good opportunity for that objective as 22 boys at one time or another wrestled for the Little Knights as they compiled a 6-6-2 record. Considering that we had no heavyweight and had to forfeit all but one of those matches, Coach Knorr's grapplers did fairly well. Wrestling in the 140 pound class, sophomore Shawn Serfass compiled the best record for the JV's (8-8-1) followed by Mike Roosa with a 7-3-3 slate. With the development of a little league program now in full swing, the future of Pen Argyl wrestling seems much brighter. At this point, just as it is with the varsity, the Little Knights are quite competitive with all schools on the schedule except Nazareth and Saucon Valley.

Celia is Tops at PAHS

With the loss of several of the top gymnasts last year through graduation, this figured to be a rebuilding year for Coach Duane Toth and his charges; however, outstanding seasonal performances from several of the underclassmen came as a pleasant surprise and the girls went on to post a 5-2 dual meet record to finish third in the tough East Penn Gymnastics League, highlighted by a 74.03-73.87 win over Dieruff. As expected, the top performer and outstanding point getter was senior Celia Miller who highlighted her career by placing 3rd in the all-around at the District II meet and second on the balance beam. Celia was the only senior lost by graduation this past season, so with upcoming underclassmen such as Sue Sullivan, Diane Teel, Julie Frutchey, and Cindy Miller 1975 could be better yet. Julie Frutchey is only a freshman and Cindy Miller a sophomore and both are promising all-around performers. Juniors Diane Teel and Sue Sullivan both placed consistently high in floor exercise and uneven parallel bars respectively and should give the 1975 squad good balance. Each year finds this relatively new sport growing and becoming more popular. The addition of Delaware Valley High School (of Milford, PA) expanded the league to six teams, the others being Pen Argyl, Pen Ridge, Dieruff, and William Allen. Several other schools have also made application, so the growth continues. William Allen captured the league title with Delaware Valley placing second.

Knights Become Contenders

The Green Knight baseball squad, led by second year head coach Ed Folk, proved to be a league contender from the outset of the season but faded in the home stretch. The Knights started with five consecutive victories, four of which were league games. Pleasant Valley, Jim Thorpe, Pocono Mountain, East Stroudsburg, and Northwestern fell at the hands of the Knights in one of the best starts ever by a Penn Argyl team. The Nazareth Blue Eagles made sure of stopping Pen Argyl's streak at five games by shutting them out for the only time all season 2-0. Eager to win the championship for the first time since 1960 Pen Argyl stunned Bangor 6-5 in eight innings to temporarily share the league lead with Nazareth. After losing independent games to Pius X twice by scores of 9-5 and 8-7, the Knights still felt confident that this was going to be the year. However, as in the past Pocono Mt. and Pleasant Valley played the spoiler and finished Pen Argyl's chances for the league title with 3-1 and 6-5 victories. After picking up a second win over Jim Thorpe, Bangor and East Burg also avenged earlier losses and put Pen Argyl's .500 record in jeopardy. The Knights, however, finished the season with a big 3-1 win over Lehigh-Northampton League champions Nazareth and ended with an 8-7 record.

A little help in the fielding department would have made all the difference in the world this year as the combined e.r.a. of the pitchers was an excellent 2.43. All is not gloom and despair, however, as only 2 seniors were lost to graduation with the bulk of the team, including an outstanding pitching staff, returning next year.

TOP LEFT: Ted Long was perhaps the tough luck pitcher of the year. His 2-3 record is misleading as he was constantly the victim of poor support in the field. His e.r.a. was an outstanding 1.18. Here he strikes out the last batter in the Knight's 5-0 win over Pleasant Valley. TOP MIDDLE LEFT: Junior Bob Weber shows his winning form against Bangor. Bob went 9 innings to defeat the Slaters 6-5. His 2-3 season record was also much less than he deserved. TOP MIDDLE RIGHT: Second baseman Tom Albanese tags 2nd and relays to first on a double play attempt against Jim Thorpe. The DP was unsuccessful, but the Knights won 10-2. TOP RIGHT: Ted Long, playing first base and center field when he wasn't pitching, misses this pitch, but he led the team in hitting with a .409 average including 5 doubles, 3 triples, and 1 homerun. MIDDLE LEFT: Russ Pysher (15) leads off first with Bob Weber at the plate. Weber walked and later scored in the Knight's 6-5 win over Bangor. MIDDLE RIGHT: Joe Palmisano fires in the high, hard one against Jim Thorpe. Joe went the distance in a 10-2 win and finished the season with 3 wins and a save against no losses. BOTTOM LEFT, FRONT ROW: John Dally, Scott Beahm. SECOND ROW: Brian Ashenfalter, Joe Catino, Brian Klinger, Alan Tobias, Mark Jones, Kevin Snoddy, Tom Albanese, Mr. Edwin Folk. THIRD ROW: Steve Miller, Bill Knapp, Russell Pysher, Bob Weber, Ted Long, Joe Palmisano, Jim Trach. BACK ROW: Rhys Williams, Bev Roberts, Kathy Romano, Roxann Achenbach, Guy Bellis. BOTTOM RIGHT: 3rd baseman Jim Trach leaps for a wild throw trying to nail Jim Thorpe runner. The throw went into left field allowing one of Thorpe's 2 runs to score. Pen Argyl won 10-2.

TOP LEFT: Rhys Williams (21) is greeted at home by teammates Ted Long, Jim Trach, Tom Albanese, and Guy Bellis following a homerun over the left field fence against Jim Thorpe. Rhys batted .272 for the year and tied Ted Long in runs scored with 11. TOP RIGHT: Sophomore right fielder Mark Jones takes a ball in the Pocono Mt. game. Mark was 2nd in team hitting with a .333 average. MIDDLE RIGHT: Rhys Williams, who played 100% in 3 sports while at Pen Argyl, makes a dive for a hard grounder in the Knight's 4-2 win over Pocono Mt. BOTTOM LEFT: Shortstop Rhys Williams tags 2nd and throws to first on a double play attempt against Bangor. Rhys also caught when Russ Pysher was injured in the Pius game. MIDDLE: Joe Palmisano makes a diving catch in left field in the first Bangor game. BOTTOM MIDDLE LEFT: Catcher Russ Pysher steps aside as Pocono Mt. runner crosses the plate. The Knights won 4-2. BOTTOM MIDDLE RIGHT: Bob Weber (16) races across first base on an infield hit against Pocono Mt. BOTTOM RIGHT: Tom Albanese is out on a close play at first as Bangor's Dave LaValva makes the putout. The Knights rallied in the 9th inning to win 6-5.

J.V.'s Manage Only 2 Wins

The JV baseball team, headed by second year coach John Harner, had yet another disappointing season winning only two of ten games. Although the team was not a winner, valuable experience was gained by the players, who hope to play varsity ball next year. Danny Derr, who played centerfield for the first seven games of the season, was moved up to the varsity for the remaining three games, which shows as ballplayers mature and gain ability their presence is greatly needed on the varsity team. Therefore the junior varsity team will never be as strong as they should be.

Pleasant Valley scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to beat the Little Knights 7-6 in the season's opener which was an omen of things to come. Later on in the year this defeat was avenged as Pen Argyl beat the Bears 5-4. East Stroudsburg also won the first game of the season 8-4 before Pen Argyl came back to win the second game 19-2. Bangor, Nazareth, and Pocono Mt. swept their two game sets with the Blue Eagles outscoring the Knights in their series 38-8. Danny Derr led the hitting department with a .360 average.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Rick Behler, a promising freshman pitcher, winds up to fire the fast ball while third baseman Greg Berger readies himself for a possible play.

Track Team Needs More Members

The track season this past year was certainly not one of team victories as the 1-10 record will show, but no less than three school records were shattered in outstanding individual performances. Team wins will just never happen here till more boys come out for track. There is no way victories can be achieved until each event is filled with the maximum number of contestants allowed and we begin getting second and third places to go along with the usual number of firsts in the 15 events of a track meet. A squad of from 15 to 20 boys cannot possibly accomplish this without some help. The team should be commended for scoring as many points as they did against insurmountable odds. Several seniors came out for the team for the first time and did a credible job, but they will be gone next season leaving another inexperienced team. Glenn Bray was the only senior on the team who participated in track for four years. Lester Hoagland, a first year senior, became an excellent miler and with more experience would surely have become a new record holder in that event. Mike Wedge contributed greatly in the high jump and long jump as did Alan Bellis in the long jump. Let's hope that interest in track and field increases and the Knights can field a competitive team in the future.

Netters Enjoy Best Season

Led by seniors David Dietrich and John Cesare, the Green Knight netters emerged with their best season since inception of the sport in 1971 finishing with a 5-6 overall record.

The Knights were especially impressive in their victories over rival Nazareth and powerful Parkland. Eight boys and one girl, manager Jacqui Blackman, received their varsity tennis letters. The team will sorely miss the three year letterman seniors, David Dietrich, John Cesare, Randy Trite and David Reagan.

Replacing the graduating seniors next year will be two solid sophomores, Brad Bellis and Russell Miller who at the number four position finished with the best win-loss record on the team.

Golf Competition Gets Tougher Every Year

Each year the golf league gets a little tougher than it was the year before and the qualifying scores for the district 11 tournament get lower and lower. This year just to get into the tournament a golfer had to average just 13 over par in at least six matches. Bob Edwards was the only one to make it, averaging 84 to lead the team.

Since the boys from the Pen Argyl area do not live close to a large golf course most of them do not get to play much golf. This means inexperience and reduces the teams' chances to win many matches. This past year the Knights picked up only one win in eight matches, a 15-0 shutout over winless Wilson. The boys played well for high school golfers, but many members of opposing teams, especially those living near large courses, are now shooting scores in the 70's—scores not much higher than the pros. Next season golf will become a fall sport instead of a spring one and hopefully, with all summer to practice, our scores will begin creeping downward, too.

High School at Last!!

The "new" concept in teaching—closed classrooms—proved to be a likeable experience for the new additions to the junior high. It took some adjustments on the part of both students and teachers to make the switch from the open classroom, but the students were glad to make sacrifices to be part of the "big school." The tunnel, changing classes, "teachers who help," "the big kids saying 'hi,'" and having study halls made life worthwhile for the first year students. Some of them liked the cafeteria food—and they even liked (?) homework! Will they feel the same when they are older?

Text books haven't lost their appeal yet for 7th graders; ask Lori Hahn.

With Mandy Buskirk leading the cheers, 7th graders stand to voice their support in the yelling contest at the Thanksgiving Day pep rally. Pep rallies are new to 7th graders but they always seem to generate needed school spirit quickly.

7th Graders Exposed to Fine Arts

What are the words to the Alma Mater? What is a 'whole note'? How many beats to a measure in 4/4 time? What are the Primary colors? What is papier mache? Want to know the answers? The seventh-graders can help you—thanks to the touch of culture bestowed upon them by the Fine Arts department. Art, choral music, and instrumental music led by Mr. Walker, Mr. Faust, Mr. Cassady, and Mr. Deischer, help the junior high students to branch out in their subject matter and receive a background in the Fine Arts. Their appetites whetted by the introductory courses, many students continue taking senior to follow a career in one of these fields. Artists of the world, make room for Pen Argyl's masters!

... And Practical Arts

What's that tantalizing aroma coming from the Home Economics room? Who would ever guess that peanut butter cookies could taste so good? The future homemakers of tomorrow come out of Pen Argyl's Home Ec. Suite today. The department believes in giving the girls of Pen Argyl an early start in the art of homemaking. The opposite sex isn't quite so fortunate. Due to the limited space in the Industrial Arts Shop, the other half of the Practical Arts department waits until the boys reach eighth grade to start them in the crafts' world. They saw as well as the girls sew, when they get started. Practical arts—preparing to build tomorrow's world.

8th Grade is Grrr-eat

Who says eighth graders are immature? Ask them how they feel about having advanced one grade level since last year and they reply with, "this year is becoming an adult," "the beginning of life," and "fun!" The advantages are plentiful—"only 20 more times to receive report cards," "four more years of school," "the end of junior high," and "not being the youngest and smallest kid in school."

Nothing is perfect, and the eighth graders have accepted the fact. They find only one disadvantage in being in eighth grade—"being too young for some things and too old for others." How simple life is!

Becky Edwards, Tina Piccerillo, and Sherri Basta, with their arms full of books and supplies, are early morning arrivals on this blustery winter day.

We Love English!

"You mean we have to write long compositions this year? I had trouble with short ones last year!" The words of the eighth-graders echo in the ears of the English department members. "We're just giving you the opportunity to use what knowledge you've gained—grammar, spelling, literature, and speaking. You're not babies any more!" In addition to becoming proficient at writing, the eighth-graders also are receiving a taste of the novel of adventure. To help them find these books, they are exposed to a comprehensive study of library skills which shows the proper way to carry out research projects in addition to general library procedure. Eighth-grade English teachers teach about more than just dangling participles and misplaced modifiers!

Of course all other grade levels get English as part of their schedule, too, and dept. head Terry Male keeps his gang hustling to keep the courses interesting.

8th & 7th Graders Combine To Form Basketball Team

One of the "fun" days for 8th grade as well as 7th grade girls took place in the beginning of March when they joined forces to put together a "basketball team" to play an organized team from Bangor. All in the space of one week a team of 45 girls was organized, practice was held, and the game played. We went over to Bangor with nine squads to play a team of seven girls who had just completed playing a regular season schedule. Our girls got clobbered but had a real ball, got a bit of experience, and would probably have won if they had had uniforms and played on our own floor.

It's So Good to be a Frosh

The end of Jr. Hi at last! Many experiences fill the days of the newly initiated freshmen. Education as well as sports open up new doors of interest. This is the first year students can choose a few electives such as home ec., languages, art, chorus, and industrial arts. Their vocabulary is changed from "Hi, how are you?" to "Bonjour, Ca va?" as Miss Bedford tries to make "Frenchmen" out of the freshmen. J.V. football, basketball and wrestling for the boys; J.V. cheerleaders, hockey and basketball for girls all offer new avenues by which the freshmen can become an active segment of the student body. Just think, they can even stand up for Battle Cry this year! When things look bleak, the 9th graders can look to the future with the comforting thought of only 12 more report cards!

The disc jockeys for the evening prepared the music for the ninth grade dance which everyone seemed to enjoy.

Everyone LOVES Phys-ed

While classes and good grades are essential parts of school, keeping in shape is also very important. "Hup two, three, four, Come on, we don't want Pen Argyl students to get soft." Mrs. Wagner, dept. head, sets a good example as she teaches that a healthy body not only looks better, but functions better as well.

The activities sometimes require hard work, but the enthusiastic efforts of Mr. Gold, Mr. Petchel, Miss Schantz, and Mrs. Wagner make every gym class fun. The broken divider also contributed to the excitement as it created an atmosphere of co-ed gym classes! "He'll never ask me out if he sees me in this ugly, old gym suit . . . I look like a balloon!"

Another important part of physical education is Driver Training. Mr. Toth carefully advises drivers, making sure to always be ready with his brake . . . just in case someone might have a lead foot. "You rated yourself as an excellent driver?!" Driver Ed.—one more cog in the wheel that keeps the Health and Phys. Ed. department rolling!

New Tongues Confuse Frosh

Hola! Guten Tag! Bonjour! Freshmen get the taste of a strange, new language that will enable them to speak to people of foreign lands. "Oh? I took this language so I could watch that pretty, new, Spanish teacher!" Sophomores and Juniors learn about the grammar of the language. "How do they expect me to know the past participle of 'to swim' in German when I don't even know it in English?" Seniors concern themselves with reading novels, learning still more grammar and the never ending vocab. There are even some students who aren't studying a foreign language, but with the encouragement of the language teachers pick up a few words and phrases. With so much French, German, and Spanish ringing through the hall, one might mistake the second floor of the high school for the U.N. Who knows? Someday you may be surprised to find that your interpreter at the U.N. had his start at P.A.H.S.!

We Made It—Senior High!

"You change from the boss of the junior high to the little man of the senior high," says one Pen Argyl tenth-grader. The transition has a bright note for the sophomores—the class ring. It helps the "little man" feel big. Tenth-graders consider their grades to be more important this year than ever before, but they still like diversions from schoolwork such as movies, early dismissals, bomb scares, pep rallies, and fire drills when it's warm outside. Their complaints about the lunches seem to dissolve long enough for them to stand in line, get their food and eat. "All in all, tenth-grade isn't that bad!"

TENTH GRADE OFFICERS—President, Nancy Kohan; Secretary, Kim Zucal; Vice-President, Mel Mutton; Treasurer, Heidi Custer.

Sophomores Relive W.W. II

A glimpse into a PAHS history class is like a peek into the past, under the careful direction of such leaders as Messrs. Chuss, Tiernan and Mervine. Freshmen receive an initial introduction to their nation, but then are more fully exposed in the Sophomore year, with a fresh-start on a fact-filled journey through America of the past, concluding with the tragic realities of World War II. Even though some heads are still spinning from a myriad of names, dates, and places, it is encouraging to see renewed interest in history as a result of the respect for students' changing attitudes shown by the fine faculty members of this Dept. Sophomores, after an educational experience in basic U.S. values, move on in the next two years to study varying global situations in World Cultures and, then, as Srs., through the enthusiastic efforts of Mr. Tom Chuss, the economic machinery of their nation, and through sociology, the human element of cultural occurrence!

Mark Jones and Mike Gaston just make it down the up staircase before the big rush.

Sophs Wheel and Deal in Big Business

With the approach of the Freshman year, the big decision in course study finds many of our girls, taking the road to business education, much to the delight of a growing number of businessmen. By the Sophomore year, the students are well adapted to secretarial office work. Observation yields a multi-picture of clicking typewriters, the hum of duplicating machines, the scratching of pen on paper from a group of future stenographers, and the puzzled looks from potential bookkeepers poring over columns of figures that don't balance!! With teachers such as Miss Louis, Miss Soltysik, Mr. Millard, and Mr. Nester molding the minds and hands of our business bound students, success is eminent indeed! With industrialization on the increase, we are fortunate to have so many willing and interested in the responsibilities of the future.

Jeff Grube, Hugh Lessig, Roger Miklos and their fellow sophomores seem to enjoy lunch better than any other period.

Juniors Begin to Realize That School Isn't So Bad

With one year left of high school life, a number of students have developed an outlook on school which is just as applicable to the outside world. In their own words, "school is an attitude; you get to accept the school for what it is, not what it isn't, and eventually you learn to like it." Some students have also recognized social problems that face everyone where ever they go. "The school, in general, is one big clique." "It's not the school! It's the people in it!" It points toward a real problem in the world. Despite misgivings, the general opinion is that, "of all the schools around here, I'm really proud to say I'm a student of Pen Argyl High School."

The junior class officers are Richard Ede, Vice President; Laurie Harris, Treasurer; and Christina Marr, President.

Pedestrians Beware

With nerves of steel and petrified voices, Mr. Duane Toth and Mr. Thomas Schoeninger withstand the horrors of inexperienced drivers. Many juniors who take Driver Education are already familiar with some driving techniques, but there are always a few that test all the know-how there is in teaching driving. When a student passes the Driver Education course, he can be sure that, with practice, the skills he has been taught will make him a safe and happy driver.

Barry Brewen and David Lemley squeeze in a few minutes of homework after gym class.

Richard Yeisley and John Liero are headed for another period of "fun and relaxation."

Who Could Fail to Enjoy the Varieties of Science?

Equation $\text{HCl} + \text{NaCl} + \text{H}_2\text{O}$." Are you sure you always get H_2O ? "What experiment did you say we were doing today?" Science classes at Pen Argyl aren't always confusing with the help of Mr. Bray at dept. head, Mr. McKay, and Mr. Corey, the senior high students receive a solid background of basics which will be helpful in future studies. "What is the name of that experiment where you change a dime into a penny?" "I've heard of inflation but this is ridiculous!" Mr. McKay lives by the motto "Variety is the Spice of Life." "Why only dissect one animal when you can dissect six or eight different ones?" After hearing about the trichina worm, many students lose their appetites for the tasty lunch of pork and sauerkraut. Wonder why? "Mr. Corey, what did you say about that friend you have?" Physics is alive with experiments, formulas, and discussions. Remember—"Don't fudge your figures!" Is this the way Einstein started?

Typing class is a good opportunity for college prep. and business students alike to aquire basic typing skills.

Juniors absent for homeroom pictures were Kris Kopko, Tammy Crawford, Karen

Temos, Ruthann Kolb, and Brian Ashenfalter.

It's easy to pick Nancy Hallam out of a crowd.

Anyone for New Math?

With a well qualified math staff headed by Miss Anderson, the mathematical geniuses of Pen Argyl cannot help but excel. The solid background which the students obtain in Algebra I from Mrs. Williams is well-appreciated when they reach the higher level maths. Algebra II, Algebra III, and Trig are progressively more difficult, but today's as well as tomorrow's juniors can handle them. Vocabulary is constantly increased from pie to asymptotes. And the eleventh graders thought they learned vocabulary only in English class! The classes are always exciting, especially since Mr. Noyes "keeps everyone on the ball"! With problems of all shapes and sizes to solve, the students take on the challenge with much enthusiasm. $\frac{1}{2} \tan \frac{2}{4} = \cos x$... anyone?!

Would you believe that was a bull's-eye? Debbie Achenbach's skill was never predictable.

If you have any problems with tables in your math book, ask Brian Klinger for help.

Vo-Tech is Thriving

Does your car need a tune-up? Your house need plumbing? Why not contact the Vo-Tech School? Applying newly discovered skills, that's what the Northampton County Vocation Technical School is for. The fields of study range from cosmetology to farming to any construction field. The students may begin attendance in their sophomore year. High School academics occupy one half of the school day while the other half is devoted to on-the-job training at Vo-Tech. The students in different fields work together as a team; building a house which will be sold after completion is one evidence of this. These fields are open to both sexes but it seems that women's lib (and men's lib too!) hasn't reached Vo-Tech. The students themselves, with few exceptions, haven't chosen courses which are commonly studied by the opposite sex. Hail to the male who dared to be different and invaded the almost all female world of food preparation! The Vocational Technical School is a good preparation for life and a hope for a skilled job in the future.

Some Vo-Tech students are Edward Fehr, David Teel and Gary Borger.

Nine Seniors Inducted Into Honor Society

Any industrious student who is able to maintain a 3.5 point average through Senior High School is eligible to become a member of the National Honor Society. The students are elected by the faculty using Leadership, Scholarship, Character, and Service as basic guides. Each year the number of members chosen may vary, but there is no set limit. Upon induction, the students are expected to maintain their point average in order to remain members. The basic purpose of the society is for students to receive recognition for their outstanding level of achievement. Congratulations goes to the new members and good luck to those who may be chosen in their senior year.

Although the cafeteria issue quieted down since last year's boycott, many new issues arose and the PAHS Student Gov't was busy again this past year. One project was to work toward the establishment of a Student Court of Appeals, and another included an exchange program with area high schools that produced many new ideas for our group and for the visiting representatives. Other areas under discussion included such topics as a senior appreciation night where all senior athletes would be honored, and the possibility of opening a student lounge and relaxed study halls.

Headway was made in all the above mentioned areas under the leadership of the following officers: President, Mary Alice Kohan; Vice President, Chris Starnier; Secretary, Michelle Fiorot; Treasurer, Kristine Kresge. The student body was represented on the School Board (as nonvoting members) by Rob Tinney, Mary Alice Kohan, and Tammy Fulin. Mary Alice Kohan and Michelle Fiorot were selected to serve as PAHS representatives on the Intermediate Unit Student Forum which met every other month at various schools. Mary Alice also represented the Student Forum at Harrisburg.

Secretaries for Hire—Cheap!

Did you notice the flawless typing in that copy of the school newspaper? The work of professionals? Almost! The future secretaries of America are making their presence felt at Pen Argyl. Known as the Business Education Workshop, nine senior business ed. students are lending their secretarial services to the school and gaining valuable experience at the same time. Helping with the typing of the Green Echo is only one of the ways in which the girls offer assistance. If a teacher or the office staff requests aid in preparing a project, the girls are willing and able volunteers. By the time they graduate these girls are "experts" in the use of business machines. Kelly Girls, step to the rear!

A.V.'s Quest for Yellow Tags Continues

"Will teachers please check their areas for any yellow-tagged A.V. equipment." The 10th period announcement is familiar to everyone who passes through the halls of P.A.H.S.

The Audio-Visual aids dept. has been kept busy meeting teachers requests ("You'll have to send someone to pick up the projector."), showing films ("Did anyone find the movie The Birds?"), and making general repairs on the equipment (No one has been electrocuted yet!). Under the direction of Mr. Snyder, the members have learned to take apart a T.V. and put it back together again. "Aw, that's kid's staff . . . But what should we do with all these extra pieces?" Well, experience IS the best teacher!

The members have gained valuable knowledge which they can apply to help keep the A.V. equipment in working order. When you need a T.V. repairman five years from now, don't be surprised to see "Gerry with a 'G'" listed in the yellow pages of your phonebook!

Intramurals Are As Popular As Ever

"Get that basketball! Run with it but don't travel!" The desire to gain new and better skills was the main ingredient of this year's intramural sports program. Intramural basketball, track, softball, wrestling, volley ball, and bowling were open to all seventh through twelfth grade sports enthusiasts. Intramurals are not only responsible for providing the sportsmanship and the ability to play a sport well, but they also serve as the building blocks for future interscholastic events. This year's highlight was the 7th and 8th grade boys' track program which competed with other schools on an intramural level.

Girls Go Unbeaten

A booming new intramural sport added an extra boost to the Spring agenda for Pen Argyl this past year. Being the only undefeated team in the school, the girls' track club has gained much recognition and hopes to continue their success in the future. Starting out with a squad of 110 girls, the team dwindled to around 50, but the girls did a fantastic job. They gained the championship of the newly formed Lehigh-Pocono Girls Intramural Track League by defeating Stroudsburg, Bangor, and East Stroudsburg in the championship meet. Other opponents to challenge the Green and White were William Allen and Notre Dame, who both fell at the hands of the Knightettes.

With the help of their coach, Mr. Harry Bray, five members of the team placed in District 11 competition, which was open to girls for the first time, and went on to Penn State to compete in the state meet. Most of the team members were underclassmen so things look bright for the next few years.

TOP LEFT: Lore Hower breaks the tape in winning her heat of the mile run at Penn State. She broke the school record with a time of 5:48 and defeated Slatington's Vicky Kemmerer who had beaten her in the districts. TOP MIDDLE: Julie Frutchey, jumping here at Penn State, was the District 11 long jumping champion with a leap of 14'3 1/2". TOP RIGHT: Senior Diana Murphy was a consistent winner in the softball throw and set a school record of 176'. TOP MIDDLE RIGHT: Pam Serfass, who qualified for states in the 80 yd. hurdles, nudges Bangor's Sue Dolan in the 50 yd. dash. Mental Gymnastics is a Lot of Fun & Games

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy—but not if Mrs. Weaver can help it! She is the supervisor of the mental gymnastics club, which meets each and every activity period. During the time the club is in session, the junior high students are given an opportunity to relax and engage in some creative activity as a diversion from the regular schedule of everyday schoolwork. Games such as “Yahtzee”, “Life”, and various card games test the mental prowess of the students. “Spill and Spell” and “Scrabble” enable the participants to develop their vocabulary and spelling ability. The club has been successful in its three years of existence, according to Mrs. Weaver. The club keeps the members busy, entertained, and out of trouble!

Checkmate—Fischer?

Mr. Smigel heads an activity that involves both fun and development of skills—the chess club. He instructs the members in the variations of the game and helps them to improve on their present methods. The club is open to both senior and junior high students, but this year's group is composed mostly of younger "Rooks." Each year, a series of games is held in order to establish a champion. This year's "King" is Eric Bellis, a two-year veteran who competed against students of his own age in addition to those older than he. His confidence and composure enabled him to cop the school championship. The club is looking forward to more good chess and chess players in the future. Bobby Fischer, BEWARE!

Cupcakes Runneth Over

CUPCAKES! . . . The nurse's club's answer to cure-all medicine—at least on Fridays. The weekly bakesales, sponsored by the nurses-to-be, put an extra bright spot in many, many Fridays. The profits helped defray the expenses of a trip to Lankenau Hospital that inspired many of the members. "Did you see that doctor?—NOW I'm sure I want to be a nurse!"

Under the devoted direction of Mrs. Ronalds, the members were enlightened by various speakers at their bimonthly meetings. The senior members of the club lent a helping hand to Mrs. Ronalds in seeing that the attendance sheets were typed up and delivered by second period. "Don't tell me that Liz Bonney is absent again!"

New Name Brings New Responsibilities

Although the Future Teachers of America, now renamed Penna. Youth Education Assoc., is a small group, the members have worked busily all year earning money for the $150 scholarship given by them to a senior planning to become a teacher. "Pollywogs anyone?" Inflation hit the club as polywogs and candy bar prices rose, but the sales were sufficient to pay for the scholarship and a banquet for the members. Other activities included a cadette teaching day at Wind Gap Elementary School where the girls acted as aides to the teachers. "Who said teaching was an easy job?" Guest speakers at the meetings held during activity periods gave the members additional insight into the field of education. The girls found out that there is more to teaching than correcting papers!

TOP: Sharon Schreck had her hands full with younger students during cadette teaching day. It's always interesting to see how many ways there are to keep the attention of an exuberant group of children. MIDDLE: Records of all school-related activities must be kept up to date. Here, the club members double check their progress. BOTTOM LEFT: Miss Dorothy Bedford, advisor; Kim Stout, Mel Mutton, Mandy Buskirk, Mary Sahaydak, Sharon Schreck. BOTTOM RIGHT: Mary Sahaydak was glad for new ideas from the students. She found it helpful to encourage young imaginations.

The varsity club isn't just a group of athletes who hold a meeting every Thursday. Mr. Bowman, the director, has plenty of SPIRIT that just seems to spill out to the members of the club. The Round Table held various fund raising projects which provided two girl's teams with warm-up uniforms.

"Programs! T-shirts! Cushions!" Sound familiar? Sue and Wendy were determined to make EVERYBODY that came to home football games the proud owners of a "KNIGHT 1" T-shirt. For some odd reason, the members of visiting teams just wouldn't buy! A bake sale and a car wash also helped pay the bills. "Rican, you're NOT here to get a suntan; you're here to wash cars!"

Although they were always busy selling items to benefit the school, they found time to help in community affairs. Well, Pen Argyl ALMOST glowed! But whether they're raising money or spending money it's always for the good of the "TEAM."

TOP LEFT: Varsity Club members view some of their athletic awards earned at PAHS. Glenn Bray earned 9 letters in football, basketball, and track; Craig Benn earned letters in football and wrestling; Rhys Williams in football, basketball, and baseball; Bob Edwards in football, wrestling, and golf; Mary Alice Kohan in field hockey; and Chris Starner in hockey and basketball. TOP MIDDLE: The varsity club sponsored the annual homecoming festivities. THIRD ROW: Leslie Yahraes, Brenda Kessler, Lynn Shoemaker, Gloria Robins, Michelle Temos, Patricia Markovitz. BACK ROW: Mrs. Shimer, Mr. Walker, April Hower. TOP MIDDLE: Mr. Faust always seems to be good friends with his girl students. Cindy Serfass and Donna Uhler were not exceptions. TOP RIGHT: The art department had its hands full around the time of the art show. Along with several final touches on major projects, there were plans to make for the style of the exhibits. These students and many more did a fine job in making this year's show very impressive. BOTTOM LEFT: Kevin Nasatka found out that hand crafts can be enjoyable and rewarding. BOTTOM MIDDLE: There are always several different projects being worked on. Erika Smith and Donna Uhler were able to get along without disturbing each other's progress. BOTTOM RIGHT: Wendy Oaten and Tammy Lee showed that what may seem like junk can be used to make unusual art objects.

Art Clubs Utilize Talents

Ceramics, anyone? Mrs. Shimer is an expert. Combining forces with Mr. Walker, she instructs the 8th grade arts and crafts club during activity periods. Besides ceramics, paper mache and macrame are two favorites of the young artists. Did you really make that belt? Artistic talent does not have to die when students graduate to the senior high. Art Activity, headed by Mr. Faust gives senior high art students the opportunity to use what they have learned in art classes. Silk screening T-shirts to promote school spirit is just one of the services which the members offer to the school. Culture and creativity are formed in Arts & Crafts and Art Activity.

How to Conquer the World in 180 Days or Less

This year, in addition to performing the traditional activities held annually by the World Affairs Club, the members joined forces with the French classes to celebrate Mardi Gras on Shrove Tuesday. The visiting exchange students represented the Pacific, the Middle East, Europe, and Latin America. The purpose of this meeting of international students was to provide an opportunity for the young people from many nations to meet, discuss their problems and differences, and hopefully to find a better solution to world problems than violence and warfare. The American Field Service students who were present recalled their motto: "Walk together, talk together, O ye peoples of the earth. Then and only then will ye find peace."

TOP LEFT: The World Affairs Club works hard at everything it does. Even a party takes work to be a success. The Deadline Is Yesterday

This year, under the great direction of Miss Joan Peron, Mr. Harry Bray, and Mr. John McKay, the Memoirs 74 staff strove for perfection in pictures and thoughts to realistically represent the school community which it is meant to depict. Unsuspecting victims of the "candid camera" lent humor and a relaxed nature to the pages—"Don't use THAT picture, I look AWFUL!"—While group and team pictures provided a glimpse of the more organized elements of student activity—"Yearbook pictures of the following clubs will be taken this morning . . ." Long hours of hard work were inevitable, however. "What do you mean we have 30 pages to do by tomorrow?!" "Did you know Mr. Bray kept Mary Alice and Mandy in his 'darkroom dungeon' during tenth periods draining their brains for new ideas?!" "Miss Peron, I realize you're the Spanish teacher, but will you please check the English in these write-ups?!"

Burning the candle at both ends was a common practice with the "faithful few" on the staff; meeting deadlines added more than one gray hair to certain heads! "Do nice guys always finish last?"

Remember—it's the finished product that counts!

TOP: Phyllis Ashenfalter, this year's ace caption writer, experiments with different words to get the right effect. News Staff Gets Credit In More Ways Than One

Do you know how many floor tiles there are in the Sr. High? Do you know who was the "Teacher of the Month" during February? Are you up on the latest movies and the sounds of the Beach Boys? You are if you read this year's Green Echo.

The staff, consisting of Seniors in the journalism class in addition to several underclassmen, made every issue fact-filled and interesting. Miss Deibert, staff advisor, was kept busy checking to see that all topics of interest were included in the newspaper. Movies, sports, editorials, and jokes ("Hey did you hear the one about the traveling salesman?") were some of the features that contributed to a great school newspaper. The Whiz Quiz also played a big part, even if it did bring some of us to the final realization that we aren't whizzes! ("I thought CLAUS trophobia was when you get excited about Santa CLAUS coming!")

Poetry, sports, puzzles, and Murphy's "fantastic fillers" made-up the voice of THE GREEN ECHO.

TOP: In the rush to meet the deadlines, the school paper looked like a puzzle that was bound to have a piece missing. Putting the right things in the right places was a real trick. Karen Kemmerer and Diane Murphy proved they knew what they were doing. BOTTOM (L to R): Kurt Snyder, Paul Lebkuecher, Linera Moll, Nancy Kohan, Ann Edwards, Diane Murphy, Brian Tucker, David Reagan. CENTER: Donna Sawyer, Miss Diane Deibert, Mike Fiorot. RIGHT: A time out for jokes from Mike Fiorot and the others was always welcome when work piled up.

Crew Handles Two Stages

Did you notice that all the lights worked fine during the Atomic Energy assembly program? Thanks to the stage crew, there was never any doubt that they would. Behind the scenes, Mr. Schoonover and Mr. Gregory head the stage crew which is made up of students from grades 9 through 12. The stage crew is responsible for all the set design, scenery, lighting and stage maintenance. Where would the Sr. play be without the crew men? Their efforts are divided between the Sr. High and the Wind Gap Elementary School. They put in a great deal of work travelling back and forth between the two, often after school hours. "Do we get paid for overtime?" All the work which goes into an effective program, whether it be a play or concert, is backed up with the responsibility of those who are never seen or heard, but are greatly needed.

George Hinton finished what he was doing just in time to do something else. BOTTOM RIGHT: Craig Dally and Rob Tinney were on special duty for the senior play stage crew.

Thespians Wow Audience!

A Glimpse of Life: A triple bill of one-act plays presented by the Sword and Shield Society provided Pen Argyl's budding actors and actresses with a fun-filled theatrical experience. "Sorry, Wrong Number" gave its viewers a peek into a collaboration by Kurt Snyder and Terry Male to murder wealthy invalid Jacqui Blackman while Tom Snuggs' portrayal of a Brooklyn police chief granted him the honor of Best Supporting Actor. In the production of "Come Live In My House" Chris Marr's humorous performance as an antagonizing housekeeper captured both the laughter of the audience and the title of Best Supporting Actress. The final play of the program, "Moony's Kid Don't Cry," had Dave Lemley and Ruth Ann Kolb doing what comes naturally to the unhappily married couple—fighting. Their stimulating characterizations of the restless household of a factory worker and his wife deservedly won them the titles of Best Actor and Actress. This performance was entered in the competition at Bucks County Playhouse held on May 23. The Society's annual attendance of a New York play on April 27 wrapped up a fantastic year of hard work and fun.

Variety—The Spice of Life

This year, under the musical leadership of Mr. Thoburn Cassady and student director, Kay Dorney, the Senior Chorus experienced pleasant success in presenting its audiences with truly stimulating choral selections. The almost 100 voices beautifully conveyed, in their Christmas concert, a spirit of warmth and rejoicing, then returned in the Spring program to radiate their enthusiasm and energy in snappy tunes such as "Mame" and "Step to the Rear." Also, a portion of the program was dedicated to audience participation in the singing of "The Old Songs." The addition of Pen Argyl's own barber-shop quartet, "Men of Song", the Vaudeville dance routine by the junior class "Musicettes," and the powerful performances by Robin Hughes and Greg Oaten added variety and professionalism to the event. These acts were highly appreciated and praised. All in all, singing the finished products was fun and rewarding—"Will everyone here kindly step to the rear and let a winner lead the way!"

Young Talent Keeps Coming

The Junior High and 9th Grade Choruses added their budding talents to the 1974 Spring Vocal Concert. "Keying" on Happiness and Friendship, the 7th and 8th graders set the mood for the evening. They began with "I Want to be Happy" and sang their way into the hearts of the audience. With Mr. Cassady and the chorus leading the way, the audience clapped and sang "It's a Small World". The "Candy Man" (Curt Kromer) was a big hit as he distributed lollipops to the on-lookers. Fortunately, junior high chorus members grow into 9th grade chorus members, and this year's 9th graders possessed great musical talent. In addition to the ability exhibited by the group as a whole, individual talent was on highlight of the show. Angela and Anthony Dotoli were masterful in their piano rendition of "Exodus" as was Kris Stocker in her performance of "Tie a Yellow Ribbon". These talented people should keep the audiences "coming back for the next three years".

"Get your horns out, people." "Mr. Deischer, if practice makes perfect, we should be magnificent!" A change of seasons brings a change of bands. With a slight change of instrumentation and personnel and a different style of music, the marching band becomes the concert band. "No, you do NOT have to lift your knees during concert season!" With music ranging from Broadway hits to classical music to modern sounds, the concert band entertained locally at the Spring Concert, and became famous with a television appearance, representing Pen Argyl on the "School of the Week" show. "Maybe we'll make it to Carnegie Hall!" Leonard Bernstein, the band is almost ready!

TOP LEFT: The saxes vary in age and talent, but all the members work hard to make their part the best. TOP MIDDLE: The brass section seems to think their the best sounding bunch. Sometimes they try too hard and blow their lips early in practice, but they soon learn consistency. TOP RIGHT: Mr. "D" seems pleased with the day's practice. MIDDLE LEFT: Members of the Senior High Concert Band are Rhonda Shaplin, Annette Kessler, Donna Barry, Lauren Masters, Rebecca Wenninger, Kay Dorney, Linda Smolenyak, Debbie Reimer, Gail Boyhont, Cindy Mohn, Angela Dotoli, David Sisolak, Roxanne Barlieb, Debbie Rasley, Judy Uhler, Pat Hahn, Adrienne Masut, Kathleen Kessler, Diane Berger, Brian Klinger, David Stancombe, Carol Richards, Teri Bachman, Linda Leiser, Mandy Lessig, Diane Detweiler, Robert Faulds, Gary Richards, Scott Shook, Doug Lilly, Dina Uliana, Bruce Hendershot, Bruce Murphy, Bill Pfeffer, Lou Goth, Jeff Grube, Cindy Murphy, Paulette Dorney, JoAnn Cory, Kent Brobst, Karl Menear, Greg Oaten, Roger Miklos, Keith Brobst, Tom Snuggs, John Davies, Dave Davis, Anthony Dotoli, Diane Murphy, Harold Beil, Steve Pacovich, Kristine Kresge. MIDDLE RIGHT: Kristine Kresge seems to become a part of her cello when accompaniments get tricky. Some instruments take more skill than the players are given credit for. BOTTOM LEFT: Take some basic sax, add a touch of flute and some rumbly drums and you've got a musical arrangement. BOTTOM MIDDLE: Without the director, a band can fall apart. Mr. Deischer makes sure that doesn't happen when he's in charge. BOTTOM RIGHT: Baritones and tubas help supply depth in the concert band.

For Your Added Enjoyment

Is that Karen Carpenter's voice coming from the Senior High gym? No, it's the voice of Robin Hughes, vocalist for the Pen Argyl High Dance Band. Under the direction of Mr. Walter Cole, the dance band has been providing entertainment with selections ranging from Fool on the Hill to Basically the Blues to Shaft. In addition to playing at an assembly for the students of the Jr. and Sr. High, the band entertained at area elementary schools, neighboring Pius X H.S., and during the intermission of the Senior Play. In order to gain experience before joining the Dance or Sr. High Concert bands, 7th and 8th graders receive training in the Jr. High band. This year, the bandsmen presented a spring concert to the public. With so many fine musicians in our midst, the hill are alive with the "Sound of Music."

Band Fronts Make Knight Band Most Colorful Around

"Are those real hatchets? Be careful of how you swing them; they could be lethal weapons!" This isn't a scene from a horror show—it's a scene from a football game half-time show with the focus on the Green Knight Color Guard and Hatchet Squad. These girls, led by Bev Roberts and Holly Miller of the Flag Squad, Roxanne Achenbach of the Hatchet Squad, and Brenda Halpin of the Front, add their special routines to the band's football game performances. The squads begin preparing for these performances by attending band camp for a week in August. This year, the girls participated in the Emmaus and Coopersburg Halloween parades in addition to contributing their talent to entertain the football fans. No Hatchet Squad was ever more pleasing to the eye than is the one from Pen Argyl!

Majorettes Under New Advisor

For 15 years, Mrs. Vivian Wagner capably advised the majorette squad. At the end of the 1973 season, Mrs. Linda Dickinson assumed the leadership responsibilities. The year proved to be an enjoyable experience for both the majorettes and their advisor. The activity started in April with try-outs followed by long, hard summer practices at Pen Argyl Park. Bake sales headed the list of fund-raising projects held in order to earn money so that the girls could attend majorette camp. The hard work was well worth it. The girls demonstrated what they learned as they performed in four parades. The prize money which they won was used to help finance a band trip in the spring. The majorettes' highlight performances came during the football game halftime shows. The girls, clad in new uniforms and dancing to a special number entitled "Spanish Flea," gave the Thanksgiving Day fans a special treat. The event filled year ended with the traditional pizza party and plans for a bigger and better season next year.

Superstars of the Seventies

A sense of pride comes from being a part of a well-disciplined unit. No, we're not talking about the football team—we're talking about the marching band! Any member will tell you that Mr. Deischer is right when he says, "Being in the band is as important and involves as much time and work as being in a sport." Well, at least members got good sun tans during the summer practices! Hours of "Lift the knees; point the toes!" paid off, as anyone who witnessed the precision drills can tell you. During the long practices, however, patience can wear thin as Bob Faulds realized after sitting on a band helmet!

The band had a superb season this year, including several individual accomplishments. Kay Dorney and Kristine Kresge participated in District Orchestra at Freedom High School, and Gregory Oaten, Diane Berger, and Kay Dorney took part in District Band at Pottsville High School. With all this, one would expect the band to be good but "good" isn't enough for the members. Their motto for next year is "The sky is the limit."

A Never Ending Circle

During May the work began for the newly appointed cheerleaders; for the returning members, the circle began to repeat. A new addition, the Junior High Cheerleaders were a great help in building much-needed spirit. Practice, bake sales, and ordering new uniforms filled the summer schedule. Labor Day was just the beginning of many parades, games and much hard work. Inspired by an enthusiastic football coach and team, the girls painted a surplus of signs and highlighted the year with pep rallies. Traditional rival Bangor cheerleader, Williams and company, fired up the entire student body as well as the football team. Miss May, did you say you were a cheerleader in high school!?!

Before their spirit had a chance to dwindle, the cheerleaders dived head first into winter sports. Cheering four nights a week made the weeks slip by. Spring came, and with it, so did many practices to prepare for competition. Despite the nervous tension, the cheerleaders merited a respectable finish in the contest. Soon, the time to pick new cheerleaders arrived, and the circle began to repeat.

TOP: Cheerleaders get ready for the football players to appear. With a sign like this one, we could never lose! LEFT: Cheerleaders and majorettes liven up the pep rally as they march to "When the Knights Go Marching In." MIDDLE: Steady everybody! The Varsity Cheerleaders—BOTTOM: Ivy Jones, Cindy Young, Theresa Totani, Patsy Petchel, Kim Zucal. CENTER: Kim Kromer, Mandy Buskirk, Janice Detzi. TOP: Brenda Cervasi, Heidi Custer.

Long Live the Queen

Unlike the homecoming activities of last year which were held at Bangor, this year's festivities took place on a sunny afternoon at Pen Argyl. Mr. Bowman directed the homecoming committee with skill and experience. Can we find 5 capable drivers? "Yes, all of you DO have to go around the track the same way! Hey, Bubba, easy on those starts! Can anybody draw a straight line?" Gifts that will bring back memories in years to come were given to the girls.

5 homecoming candidates nominated by the Sr. class began preparing for the big day. "Will you be my escort . . . PLEASE? I don't have a thing to wear!" Then, 2 days before the game, the school voted for the queen. Who won? That was the best kept secret of the year—or was it?

Finally, the big day arrived and so did many alumni. The girls were eye catching in their new outfits, but the escorts got their share of attention with their bow-ties and platform shoes. The girls were nervous—"I can't stand the suspense!" The walk across the field took hours, it seemed, before Cindy Jo became queen.

SENIORS

TOP LEFT: Our scholar athlete this year was Craig Benn. Craig played both offensive and defensive end on the football team and ranked 4th in the senior class. TOP RIGHT: Besides being our Homecoming Queen this past year Cindy Jo Young was awarded the annual DAR Award. BOTTOM: For the 7th consecutive year the Pen Argyl Exchange Club and the Wind Gap-Pen Argyl Rotary Club have presented Senior of the Month awards. October winners were Mike Manoway and Kay Dorney; November, Rhys Williams and Diane Murphy; December, Bob Faulds and Cindy Jo Young; January, Bob Edwards and Dina Uliana.

TOP LEFT: Mike Manoway received the following awards: the highest average in mathematics, the Collins and Aikman award for highest math and science averages, $300 scholarship from University of Pitt, International Ladies Garment Workers Union Award, Pen Argyl National Bank award for the highest average in economics, Rotary Club award for the highest college board scores, National Honor Society Recognition and finally a scholarship for Pitt University from Sen. Hobbs. TOP MIDDLE: Denise Mann received the awards for the highest average in science and English, the World Affairs award, a complementary subscription to the Reader's Digest and National Honor Society Recognition. TOP RIGHT: Kay Dorney received the award for highest average in foreign language, Future Teachers Award and National Honor Society recognition. RIGHT: Senior of the Month Awards were presented to Chris Starner and Glenn Bray for February; March, Sally Harding and Roger Woolley; April, Denise Mann and Craig Benn. BOTTOM LEFT: Brian Fulmer and Bruce Fulmer were the recipients of the VoTech Carpentry Award; James Martin earned the Painting and Decorating award; Kevin Phillips received the Welding award; Ralph Hahn and Robert McWilliams received the Productive Agriculture award; and Debra Englert received the Health Assistant award.

Seniors Change Play Style By Presenting Drama

"The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie," the Senior Play, was presented by the Class of '74 on April 5 and 6. Terri Williamson as Sister Helena, revealing her past during an interview with newspaper reporter Kurt Snyder, supplied the memories which came alive during the sequence of events in Edinburgh, Scotland, in the 1930's. Miss Jean Brodie, a vigorous teacher, was portrayed by Debby Shuttleworth in the characterization of a liberated teacher dedicated to replacing the distress of reality with the quest for ideals. Her affairs with the art master (Dave Lemley) and the music teacher (Bob Faulds) caught the attention of the headmistress (Jacqui Blackman), whose investigation ended with the dismissal of Miss Brodie. Mary Alice Kohan, Cindy Wilson, Sandy Guerro and Kay Dorney carefully portrayed the transition of the Brodie Set from silly schoolgirls to romantic followers of Jean Brodie. Both Dave Lemley and Bob Faulds exhibited powerful performances as they attempted to cope with Jean Brodie and her set. Sandy (Mary Alice Kohan), the girl who becomes too wise too soon, grew jealous of Miss Brodie's favoritism toward Jenny (Cindy Wilson). In an act of hostility, Sandy informed the headmistress of Miss Brodie's endorsement of Fascism. This betrayal directly resulted in the dismissal. After a short-lived triumph, Sandy felt remorse to the point where she entered a convent, seeking reconciliation with God. With a fine dramatic script, incredible hours of hard work and personal sacrifices, including back stage support from Rob Tinney, Craig Dally and Jim Seitz, and the enthusiastic efforts and highly appreciated direction of Mr. Terry Male, this Senior Play cast will hold memories of success and cooperation that will not be readily forgotten.

Prom Night

A Glorious Night in May

"There will be a junior class meeting in the auditorium immediately following this morning's announcements!" This was the beginning of the long preparations for the 1974 Jr.-Sr. prom. "How many times are we going to vote on where to have it or what to eat? This must be at least the eighth time!" With the date finally settled the juniors' thoughts turned to decorations. Parachutes, parachutes, parachutes! Who ever heard of decorations costing three-hundred dollars? "Hey, Theresa what about all those streamers!" Mystifying atmosphere filled the gym, but what happened to the fish in the fountain? Nobody really misses the goldfish, as everyone was entranced by the music and mood of the evening. The post prom which was held at Fernwood provided an all-night extravaganza for those with the stamina to last. Except for a few complaints concerning sore ears, those attending survived the marathon party. Sophomores, get ready! The juniors are looking forward to a fabulous prom next year.

Class Day At Mo-Nom-O-Nok

"I can't believe it didn't rain!" This was Class Day 1974! Thanks to fun loving chaperones and good friends, the Class of '74 had a final fling together at Mo-Nom-O-Nok Lodge on Thursday, May 30. Even a few minor complications couldn't ruin the event: "What do you mean 10 TO A ROOM!" After the 10:00 arrival at the lodge, many settled down at poolside until lunch was served. The afternoon was spent "leisurely" throwing chaperones into the pool, engaging in a neck breaking session of "keepaway", and figuring out a strategy for getting everyone out of the water and ready for dinner at 5:30! The day seemed to quiet down as the sunburned seniors and their chaperones settled down to the evening meal. A special presentation by Rob Tinney at dinner, however, brought a spark back to the group which then exploded into boundless energy as the music of the "All Night Flyers" brought all to the dance floor. For many, the day ended too soon and the bus ride home was filled with laughter and memories—and certainly, a few tears.

At Last The Final Moment

"God grant me the SERENITY to accept the things I cannot change, COURAGE to change the things I can, and the WISDOM to know the difference." Commencement 1974 began with Dina Uliana's address based on the first part of the Serenity Prayer, followed by the presentations of Denise Mann and Phyllis Ashenfalder based on Courage and Wisdom. "Will we ever possess wisdom?" Mr. Lee had the honor of announcing awards presented to deserving seniors. "All my hard work wasn't in vain!" Dr. Kresge's remarks were followed by the long-awaited moment—presentation of diplomas. "We made it!" "You're not crying, are you?" Some graduates have jobs, others are off to college and others are still undecided; but everyone has one thing in common: looking to the future as a bright tomorrow. "I'll see you at the class reunion!"
